Scope

This policy applies to all Indiana University School of Medicine (IUSM) Graduate Medical Education (GME) resident physicians.

Reason for Policy

The purpose of this policy is to define unprofessional or abusive behaviors and sexual harassment and to define the procedures used for investigation of a complaint.

IUSM’s educational mission is promoted by professionalism in faculty/resident/student/staff relationships. Professionalism is fostered by an atmosphere of mutual trust and respect. Actions of faculty and residents that harm this atmosphere undermine professionalism and hinder fulfillment of the School’s educational mission. Trust and respect are diminished when those in positions of authority mistreat others. Those who mistreat others in such a context violate their duty to the academic community, as well as the IUSM Honor Code.
There may be situations where medical students or residents feel they are mistreated or sexually harassed in the medical education setting. Because the relationship between faculty and students or residents is hierarchical, it remains the ethical responsibility of the faculty to assure that students and residents are professionally mentored and respectfully treated. Likewise, it is critical that residents treat medical students in a professional and non-abusive manner.

IUSM is thus committed to maintaining the highest standards of professionalism. This commitment also includes an obligation to promptly investigate alleged violations of the IUSM Honor Code. The policy herein provides examples of mistreatment and other behavior that will not be tolerated and the procedures for reporting instances of conduct and other behavior that interfere with effective teaching and learning such that they can be addressed.

Indiana University maintains a Code of Academic Ethics which outlines the professional conduct of faculty members in their interactions with students and residents. The policy herein is a supplement to this university-wide Code of Academic Ethics and provides an interpretation and implementation process specific to IUSM.

Policy Statement

Examples of mistreatment and other behavior that interfere with effective teaching and learning:

Annually, the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) surveys graduating medical students via the Graduation Questionnaire about perceived mistreatment experiences. In order to promote IUSM’s compliance with the AAMC survey, the examples listed below are taken directly from the Graduation Questionnaire and are included here for illustrative purposes only.

- Publicly embarrassed or humiliated
- Threatened with physical harm or being physically harmed
- Required to perform personal services
- Subjected to sexual advances
- Asked to exchange sexual favors for grades or other rewards
- Denied opportunities for training or rewards based on gender, race or ethnicity, or sexual orientation
- Subjected to offensive, sexist remarks/names; racially or ethnically offensive remarks/names; or subjected to offensive remarks/names related to sexual orientation
- Received lower evaluations/grades based on gender, race or ethnicity, or sexual Orientation

Procedures

1. Resident as Recipient
A. Residents who believe they have been mistreated should notify either the IUSM Ombudsman, department chair, program director, or the Associate Dean of Graduate Medical Education. Individuals may also go directly to the IUPUI Office of Equal Opportunity. Additionally, IUSM has an online Mistreatment Incident Report Form that residents can use to anonymously report incidents of mistreatment or professional misconduct.

Complaints involving faculty will be investigated in coordination with the following: the Office of Faculty Affairs and Professional Development (OFAPD), appropriate medical governing agencies or the Office of Equal Opportunity.

B. Complaint procedures should include the following principles:

1. Investigations will be conducted promptly and thoroughly and the outcome will be reported to both parties involved.

2. The Associate Dean of GME is available to advise and consult with either or both parties to the complaint.

3. Efforts will be made to restrict information regarding complaints to the complainant, the accused party, and those persons directly involved in processing the matter.

4. If necessary, a formal investigation of the complaint will be conducted by the Associate Dean of GME or designee.

5. The Office of Equal Opportunity will serve as a resource with regard to interpretation of sexual harassment guidelines where applicable.

6. If a complaint is found to be valid, corrective action, up to and including termination of the offender, will be taken through appropriate channels of the GME Office. The corrective action will reflect the severity and persistence of the abuse or harassment, as well as the effectiveness of any previous remedial action.

7. The GME Office will make follow-up inquiries to ensure the mistreatment has not resumed and the complainant has not suffered retaliation.

8. Appeal will be open to either the complainant or the accused party.

2. Resident as Source
Medical students who believe they have been treated in an unfair or unprofessional manner may follow the steps provided above in the section above. Each department should have their own policy, procedure, and reporting for instances in which the resident is perceived as the source of mistreatment. See the IUSM Mistreatment Incident Report Form for guidelines on appropriate steps.
